

Napa Valley Travel Guide: Everything You Need to Know for a Fall Tasting Trip

All the new developments, from Carneros to Calistoga.

by Carole Dixon September 26, 2016 • 9:45 AM ET

The Napa Valley might be a mere 30 miles long, but with a slew of new hotels, restaurants with celebrity chefs, and tasting rooms pouring in, you will need to navigate your way carefully up and down the one-lane Highway 29 to avoid sitting in traffic rather than sipping vino. Start in the southern town of Napa and make your way north through these high-profile and newer stops along the tasting trail to Yountville and St. Helena. Here's everything — everything! — you need to know for a comprehensive updated guide to the region.

Yountville

Tastings with Art

The JCB Tasting Salon opened early this year, featuring Napa Valley and French wines. The Salon also features the Surrealist Boutique that showcases luxury goods produced from around the world, including JCB's custom-designed jewelry collection, candles, and perfumes.